Tulsa, Okla. – Tulsa-based accounting and taxation planning firm, CCK Strategies, has been named the #1 Midsize Accounting Firm to Work For in 2014 by industry thought-leader and publisher Accounting Today.

According to Accounting Today, the award defines winning firms as “among the most forward-looking and progressive in the profession” as well as those who have “made significant commitment to their employees and to their own future, implementing the policies and initiatives that create the kind of workplace environment that attracts engaged, enthusiastic staff.”

“Our team could not be more excited to be named The Best among firms of our size across the entire country,” said Terry Cumbey, CCK co-founding partner and CEO. I speak for all the partners when I say we feel fortunate to come to work every day, serving our amazing clients alongside such an outstanding family of talented and caring professionals. This award reflects the culture of caring we seek every day to cultivate in the CCK community.”

CCK was founded in 1997 by three partners – John Curzon, Terry Cumbey and Eric Kunkel – with a focus on service. The company has grown to be comprised of more than 70 individuals and seven partners working together to plan strategic accounting solutions to a diverse base of entrepreneurs in and outside of Oklahoma.

CCK service lines have grown to include, but are not limited to practice specialties in the areas of audit/review/compilation, business appraisal/valuation, estate/succession planning, international business, fraud prevention, M&A, and litigation support. CCK’s client teams serve customers in every sense of the word, from strategic accounting and tax planning, to building value, to helping them solve business challenges and realize goals.

The firm has experienced exceptional growth in the recent years. CCK continues to seek public accounting professionals at all experience levels with not only a strong work ethic and commitment, but also those who demonstrate appreciation for a culture of care and collaboration. CCK offers their team members a broad variety of health and retirement benefits including a mentoring program, flexible work hours, remote working access, education reimbursement and a health and wellness program.
About CCK

CCK was founded in 1997 by three young partners motivated to build a new type of CPA firm. John Curzon, Terry Cumbey, and Eric Kunkel took a big risk, leaving successful existing positions to form a new firm - one founded on the principle of "service." The three established CCK, and in 2002, became members of the nationally recognized McGladrey Alliance of exceptional accountancy practices. The company is currently located at 4100 E. Skelly Dr., suite 1040, in Tulsa and their phone number is (918) 491-4036. Learn more about CCK at http://www.cckcpa.com/.

Today, the CCK partners and senior firm mentors include: John E. Curzon, CPA/ABV, CVA, CM&AA; Terry L. Cumbey, CPA/ABV, CVA, PFS, CFP; Eric M. Kunkel, CPA/ABV/CFF, CVA, MBA; Jeffrey A. Frable, CPA; Kayce L. Nelson, CPA; Glenn Eddleman, CPA/CFF, CFE, CFI, CVA; and Brent Johnson, CPA. CCK is a part of the McGladrey Alliance, a premier affiliation of independent accounting and consulting firms. McGladrey Alliance member firms maintain their name, autonomy and independence and are responsible for their own client fee arrangements, delivery of services and maintenance of client relationships. McGladrey Alliance is a business of McGladrey LLP which operates under the McGladrey brand as the fifth largest U.S. provider of assurance, tax and consulting services. McGladrey, the McGladrey logo and the McGladrey Alliance signatures are used under license by McGladrey LLP.
